WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION
HARNESSE MAKER'S CLAIM
At Newcastle West Quarter Sessions

Case Before County Court Judge
On Tuesday at the Newcastle West Quarter Sessions, before County Court Judge Law-Smith, James Doherty, by occupation a harness maker, obtained compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act from Thomas Kennedy, Newcastle West.

Mr. P. Kelly (instructed by Mr. J. P. Lavan, solicitor) appeared for the applicant, and Mr. F. Holmes (instructed by Mr. E. Leahy, solicitor) for the respondent.

Mr. Kelly stated that the applicant was engaged at his trade on the 8th May with the respondent at Newcastle West. His wages were at the rate of 14s a week, with board and lodging valued at 14s a week.

His Honor—Is that under the insurance rate?
Mr. Kelly—Yes. At all events the applicant, while at his work, received an injury which incapacitated him from continuing his employment. He was attended by Dr. Pagan, who, strange to say, would now be called by the Insurance Commissioners.

The applicant, in his evidence, stated that while lining a collar on the 8th May the needle slipped and entered the second finger of the left hand; he was attended by Dr. Pagan, who advised him to go into the Newcastle Union hospital, which he did, and was for a time under the care of Dr. O'Brien; the respondent visited him on one occasion and suggested amputation of the finger, but this was not done, and eventually the finger was taken off from the joint.

As a result of the injury he was incapable of continuing his ordinary trade, and eventually the finger was taken off from the joint. In reply to Mr. Holmes, the applicant stated that the finger was still sore, and as a result he was absolutely incapable of following his employment.

Mr. Kelly—I am unable to call Dr. O'Brien, as he is away on holiday.
For the defense, Mr. Pagan, Dispensary Medical Officer, Newcastle West, was examined. He saw Doherty early in May, and found him suffering from a whitlow on the second finger of the left hand; he asked him if any other thing happened to cause the whitlow, and he replied that it was due to the prick of a needle. Mr. Kelly—Could it be caused by a thorn?
Mr. Kelly—He said nothing to you about a thorn?

His Honor—Dr. Pagan is in a peculiar position. He attended this man as a patient, and now represents the Insurance Company.
Mr. Holmes—Is he able to do any work? I am sure he is able to do different varieties of work.
Mr. Kelly—Such as piano playing (laughter). In answer to Mr. Kelly's witness statement he attended the applicant in his capacity as Dispensary Medical Officer; he was now in a different capacity—as representative of the Insurance Company.

Mr. Kelly—Have you written to the Insurance Company? Yes.
And furnished them with a brief? No; I gave them a statement of the case.
Now would that whitlow be caused by the prick of a needle? Yes.
His Honor—Dr. Kennedy will report in the case.
The doctor stated that the applicant was unable to do his ordinary work on the 15th of 12th a week.

ODORLESS ONIONS
PRODUCED IN AMERICA
No More Weeping Cooks!
The odorless onion has come at last. For centuries gardeners have been experimenting with need to produce an onion without the lachrymatory fragrance. It will be a boon in the kitchen, where the cook will no more weep over the preparation of her food. The new onion has been produced in America. There the onion has been largely eaten raw, like fruit, but apart from the pungent smell which afflicted the eater at the first bite, the onion has been a source of trouble to the future with the plan and the strawbery. But the future is distant yet, for it requires special treatment to remove the smell, and though the bulbs that have been produced are numerous they cannot be grown everywhere, as is hoped, several generations will have fixed the quality.

Ardagh Sports
What promises to be a very successful and interesting sports meeting will be held at Ardagh on Wednesday, November 1st. An elaborate programme has been arranged for the occasion and valuable prizes will be offered.

Munsters Wounded
Recent casualty lists contain the announcement that Privates J. Casey and J. O'Sullivan, both of whom are a belonging to the 1st Munster Fusiliers, have been wounded in action, as has also been Private O'K., who is a native of Newcastle West, and is attached to the same regiment.

The Dairies Order
As a special meeting of the Glin District Council was held, at the request of the 1,600 Board, which legal proceedings were threatened against the Council in connection with the matter, to summon to Public Sessions those in the district who neglect to comply with Article 1 of the General Dairies Order, 1908, requiring farmers and others to register.

Nurse's Appointment
Miss Nora Danaher, Castlemanah, was recently elected trained nurse in the Newcastle West Workhouse as an initial salary of £20 a year, with 9s a week in lieu of rations, and at the last meeting of the Newcastle West Board of Guardians a letter was read from the Local Government Board sanctioning her appointment, which is very popular in the district.

October Blossoms
A farmer from the Newcastle district writes: "It may be of interest to readers of your interesting 'West Limerick' if I know, which is a well-selected one, a pair of leaves from the remarkable bunches of blossoms at present—a most unusual thing for October. The tree bore fruit, but not much, at the same time, and the present crop of blossoms is a second one."

Hurling at Rathkeale
What promises to be a most exciting hurling match will take place at Rathkeale on Sunday next between teams representing Grange and Newcastle. The teams met at the same venue a short time ago when the game resulted in a draw. Since then a further combination has trained hard for the fray, and when they come on Sunday next a most interesting exhibition of the national pastime should be witnessed.

Hair-Breadth Escape
While taking a horse to the forge last Monday, a horse belonging to a correspondent, a farmer residing between Templepatrick and Abbeyfeale had a hair-breadth escape from a fatal kick. After closing a gate leading from his farm to the public road, he proceeded to examine the horse's shoes, when the animal made a most vicious kick, closely shaving his temple, which he himself touched with the iron, and snatching a bar of the timber gate to atoms.

Killed in Action
Much regret was expressed in the parish of Knockaderry and Clonough when the announcement was received of the death of D. MacDonnell, a local correspondent. Shortly after the outbreak of the war the deceased joined the Munster Fusiliers, with whom he saw much service at the Dardanelles. Having been wounded in the last great campaign, he returned to Ireland, and after a brief stay was again sent to France, where he fell fighting in the recent big push.

National Aid Fund
Practically every district in West Limerick has contributed most generously to the National Aid Fund. The people of Ardagh, however, have subscribed the splendid total of £124 18s, while Abbeyfeale Parish has sent forward the respectable amount of £72 10s 6d. A particularly gratifying feature of the collection in the several centres is that the subscriptions come with an almost universal desire to help from people of all shades of political belief.

Adare Burial Ground
In the Adare district much satisfaction has been felt at the death of Sister Mary Coleman, J.P.M.C., at the last meeting of the County District Council in reference to the burial ground. The burial ground, it appears, is in a sound state, and the District Council, as the Sanitary Authority, can do nothing to remedy matters, as the place is church property. The people of Ardagh, however, have now stepped in and have collected money with a view to keeping the burial ground in proper order. An extensive area has been reserved for the purpose, and many improvements to the last resting place of their dead will soon be effected.

Castlemanah Tournament
At last Saturday's meeting of the Limerick G.A. County Board attention was drawn to the action of the Castlemanah Hurling Tournament, which was held on the 10th inst. at Castlemanah. The tournament was a most successful one, and the results were as follows:—
Final: Castlemanah vs. Newcastle. Castlemanah won by 3-1.
Semi-final: Castlemanah vs. Grange. Castlemanah won by 2-1.
Semi-final: Newcastle vs. Grange. Newcastle won by 2-1.

Deel Drainage Question
The swollen condition of the Deel last Friday as a result of the heavy rains of Friday and Saturday called attention once more to the question of draining the bed of the river. The question is a most important one, and it is hoped that the County Board will take prompt action to remedy the matter.

GIRL'S CLAIM
AGAINST ABBEYFEALE FARMER
FOR ALLEGED INJURIES
Case at Newcastle West Quarter Sessions

At the Newcastle West Quarter Sessions on Tuesday, before County Court Judge Law-Smith, Elizabeth Keane, a minor, appeared in a claim for compensation for an injury received on the 23rd August while working for the defendant, Thomas O'Connell, a farmer, living at Clash, Abbeyfeale.

Mr. P. Kelly (instructed by Mr. R. A. Mauley, solicitor) appeared for the applicant, and Mr. D. Leahy, solicitor, and Mr. D. O'Connell, solicitor, for the respondent.

In her evidence Elizabeth Keane stated she entered into the defendant's service on the 15th February, at the rate of 24s a month, and the contract to terminate on the 15th December of this year. She worked on regularly until the morning of the 23rd August, when she was engaged milking a cow and received a kick on the right knee. She was knocked down, and subsequently attended by Dr. Harnett, Abbeyfeale, on whose advice she went into Newcastle Union hospital. She was a fortnight in hospital under the charge of Dr. O'Brien, and was still unable to use the limb to perform her work.

By Mr. Leahy—She was not injured by the cow, but by the horse. She was working the horse when she was injured. She was not injured by the cow, but by the horse. She was working the horse when she was injured.

Mr. Leahy—You did not see any mark on the knee? No.
What is the nature of the injury? It is usually due to a blow.

Does it not arise from natural causes? No.
For the defense, Dr. Pagan stated that he made a careful examination of the applicant's knee, and did not find her suffering from any injury; there were no marks on it.

DIES IN WATERFORD
The funeral obsequies

It is with deep regret (says the 'Waterford Star') that the death of Sister Mary Coleman, J.P.M.C., at the last meeting of the County District Council in reference to the burial ground. The burial ground, it appears, is in a sound state, and the District Council, as the Sanitary Authority, can do nothing to remedy matters, as the place is church property.

DEATH OF MRS. ENRIGHT, BALLYMARTIN
The death took place at Ballymartin of Mrs. Mary Enright, at the ripe old age of 81 years. The remains were conveyed to the family burying ground at Farnham on the 19th inst. by the Rev. Canon Kennedy, P.P. Farnham, Rev. M. Leahy, O.C., and Rev. T. Harty, J.P. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock on the 19th inst. by the Rev. Canon Kennedy, P.P. Farnham, Rev. M. Leahy, O.C., and Rev. T. Harty, J.P.

TRAIN FACILITIES
FOR WEST LIMERICK
County Court Judge's Comments

Before the business portion began at the Newcastle West Quarter Sessions on Tuesday, before County Court Judge Law-Smith, K.C., said he wished to protest on behalf of the administration of the County Council in reference to the train facilities for the West Limerick Railway Co. All the county officials were present in Court on the previous day, and his Honor had intended to finish the business of the day, but he found that the train facilities for the West Limerick Railway Co. were not satisfactory.

The directors of the Great Southern and Western Railway Company owed a duty to the travelling public as well as to their shareholders, and he hoped that the public bodies would take the matter up, with a view to having the train service re-arranged to suit the travelling public.

MALICIOUS INJURY
DAMAGE TO MOWING MACHINE
Compensation Claim at Newcastle West

At the Newcastle West Quarter Sessions on Tuesday, before County Court Judge Law-Smith, K.C., Mr. Martin O'Connell, a carrier, living at Newcastle West, applied for £40 compensation for the malicious damage of a mowing machine on the 28th July.

Mr. J. P. Lavan, solicitor, appeared for the applicant, and Mr. D. Leahy, solicitor, for the respondent. The evidence went to show that the machine was broken in some of the vital parts while lying at Churchtown on the evening in question.

Mr. Leahy admitted malice, and his Honor awarded £5 compensation, to be paid out of the County Council, and he was to be paid out of the County Council.
