Windings (Full Band Show)

Special Guests - At Last an Atlas

Dolan's Warehouse, 8.00pm

In 2005, Windings eponymous debut album was released on Out On A Limb Records. Recorded in fits and bursts over a four year period, "windings" flits from lo-fi acoustic melodies to Scuzzy rock, from pure pop to dirgy almost-metal, all of which makes for a truly original and invigorating listening experience. Over the past couple of years, windings have had the pleasure of playing/touring with the likes of Daniel Johnston, Smog, The Handsome Family, Bob Mould, Okkervil River, Jape, Caribou, Tom McRae, Iron And Wine, Villagers, Jeffrey Lewis, and Modest Mouse, amongst others.

This year, the new single "Brain Fluid" (recorded by Tommy McLaughlin-Villagers, giveamanakick, Cathy Davey) is finally recorded, mixed, mastered, and will be released April 2010 on Out On A Limb Records.

Nik Kershaw Acoustic Show followed by Eighties Night with DJ Eric Fitz

Dolan's Warehouse, 8.00pm

Nik Kershaw is best known for his hits such as "I won't let the sun go down" and "Wouldn't it be good". With multi platinum selling albums his career was launched worldwide and in July 1985, he took to the the Wembley stage to perform at Live Aid.

In 1990, after four MCA albums and sales of over 8 million, Nik left the spotlight to concentrate on song writing and producing. The following years saw him working with Elton John, Chesney Hawkes, Cliff Richard, Bonnie Tyler, Lulu, Ronan Keating, Jason Donovan, Tony Banks, Michael W Smith, Conner Reeves, Nick Carter, The Hollies, Colin Blunstone, Imogen Heap, Gary Barlow and Let Loose.

He rekindled his recording career in 1998 with the critically acclaimed album "15 Minutes" and has subsequently released two further albums, "To Be Frank" (2001) and "You've Got To Laugh" (2006). Roesy – “Fable” Launch Tour

Doors 7:30pm Tics €13 which includes a copy of the album!

Roesy is getting ready to release his fifth studio album "Fable", the work of an artist who despite diversifying his talents across a broader spectrum of the arts in recent times, has clearly not lost his true love for creating music. Perhaps influenced to some degree during stints living in other cities, his Irishness still shines through in this beautiful collection of honest reflections.

Live Music

Uncle Monk followed by Eighties Night with DJ Eric Fitz

Dolans, 8.00pm

Uncle Monk is an indie-acoustic duo featuring TOMMY RAMONE (of The Ramones) on vocals, mandolin, guitar, banjo and dobro, and CLAUDIA TIENAN (The Simplistics) on vocals, guitar and bass.

The music of the two artists complements each other. There is a Yin and Yang sensibility at work, a touch of light and dark, of bitter and sweet.

They have been drawn towards the classic simplicity of string band music, but at the same time are deeply involved with the aesthetics of alternative music, and use their musical influences to create an original style.

Tommy Ramone says "There is a similarity between punk & old time music, both are home brewed as opposed to schooled, both have earthy energy, and there is a certain cool in old time music that is found in the best alternative acts."
